REPORT ON NSS SPECIAL CAMP – 2026

The National Service Scheme (NSS) Unit of KMCT National College of Pharmacy, Kozhikode, organized a 7 NSS Special Camp from 27 September 2026 to 03 October 2026 with the objective of promoting social responsibility, community engagement, environmental awareness, and the spirit of voluntary service among student volunteers.

Residential Camp at VSET Campus, Kalpetta

Conducted a residential camp at VSET Campus, Kalpetta, the camp provided an opportunity for volunteers to participate in group activities, interactive sessions, and team-building exercises. The residential setting encouraged self-discipline, mutual cooperation, leadership, and interpersonal communication. The activities helped strengthen unity among the volunteers and reinforced the NSS motto, "Not Me, But You."

Medical Awareness Camp at Tribal Village, Muthanga

The fourth day was dedicated to a medical awareness programme at a tribal village in Muthanga, Wayanad. The activity aimed to promote health awareness and encourage healthy practices among the community members. NSS volunteers interacted with local residents and participated in awareness activities related to personal hygiene, preventive healthcare, sanitation, and the importance of seeking timely medical attention.

Charity Visit to Peace Village Old Age Home, Kalpetta

On the fifth day, the NSS team visited Peace Village Old Age Home, Kalpetta, as part of its charitable and community outreach activities. The visit aimed to promote compassion, respect, and concern for elderly people. Volunteers spent time interacting with the residents and shared moments of companionship and care.

The visit helped students understand the emotional and social needs of elderly people and highlighted the importance of kindness, dignity, and support for senior citizens. The activity provided a meaningful opportunity for volunteers to practise empathy and social responsibility through direct community engagement.

Outcomes of the Camp

The NSS Special Camp provided several learning opportunities for the student volunteers:

- Enhanced awareness of community health, preventive healthcare, and personal hygiene.
- Improved leadership, teamwork, communication, and organizational skills.
- Developed empathy and concern for elderly people and underserved communities.
- Promoted environmental awareness and the importance of cleanliness.
- Strengthened the spirit of voluntary service and social responsibility.
- Encouraged active participation in community development and public welfare activities.
- Provided practical exposure to the role of pharmacy students in health promotion and community engagement.

Conclusion

The NSS Special Camp 2026 organized by KMCT National College of Pharmacy, Kozhikode, was a valuable learning experience that combined educational activities with social service and community engagement. The seven-day programme enabled volunteers to understand the importance of serving society, promoting health awareness, caring for vulnerable populations, and protecting the environment.
